

Update From
Director of Religious Education,
Dr. Chris Rogutsky

Happy Summer! During the month of July I have had the distinct pleasure to meet with many All Soul's families. This has happened informally after services, during scheduled individual meetings, and via Zoom. That being said, I am eager to meet each and every one of you. I am excited to hear your thoughts and ideas on how best to create a robust RE program. If you are available during August, please email me at: chrisr@allsoulsnyc.org and we can identify the best way to connect (or connect again!).

In the upcoming weeks I plan to share details about the RE launch in September. Please enjoy the remaining months of summer. This can be a wonderful time of year to enjoy family, frivolity and replenish before the start of the new school year.

A little about me...

Dr. Chris is a first-generation American who is originally from New York City. Creative outlets throughout her lifetime have shown her that artistic traditions are part of the cultural fabric of different parts of the world. Dr. Chris earned her doctorate in educational leadership from the University of Pennsylvania. She holds additional advanced degrees in counseling and special education and has completed numerous trainings in art, social work, and myriad Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion topics. She is passionate about removing obstacles to learning, art, culture, nature, walking, living a healthy lifestyle, identifying ways to move forward when challenges arise and of course helping children develop a resiliency of spirit.
